

BARRELL

RUM™

BATCH 001 NOW AVAILABLE

- ◆ Jamaican pot still rum
- ◆ distilled and aged in Jamaica
- ◆ crafted and bottled in Kentucky
- ◆ 134.73 proof cask strength bottling
- ◆ aged for 7 years in previously used bourbon barrels appearance: burnished copper in the glass, with tinges of deep brown and raw honey at the core. Shimmers skate across the surface with every swirl. The texture is multifaceted and glistening, lightly golden when held up to the light.

nose: vanilla and charred coconut carried by a warm and salty sea breeze. Caramelized plantains smothered in molasses. Undercurrents of fine tobacco and a beach campfire run beneath the surface of this enticing rum.

palate: wood smoke from exotic hardwoods, aguardiente, and nutmeg. Toasted hazelnuts, brown butter and freshly squeezed lime juice with dollops of cane sugar syrup flash across the tongue and then ebb away before the potent heat.

finish: simultaneous bursts of warmth on the lips, tongue, and in the throat. Tropical notes linger at the back of the throat while menthol effervesces off the lips. The depth of complexity astounds and sparkles.

Barrell's mission is to find and curate the best barrels and batches of spirits. We bottle at full cask strength to preserve the singular characteristics of each batch. Every batch is unique and made in limited production. Lift your spirits.™