

BARRELL

RYE

BATCH 004

10-year-old Indiana Rye barrels with notes of brown sugar and a touch of smoke had 5 and 6-year-old barrels layered in for fruit and spice character. 14-year-old Canadian barrels were added for their dry herbal notes. The result is fruit-forward rye with layers of depth.

This rye blend highlights rye's earthier side, featuring notes of tobacco, leather, and mole poblano. Its stewed fruit and wilder savory character recall the syrahs of France's Rhône valley: blackberry and tapenade on the nose followed by a sweet meaty finish with a hint of black pepper.

APPEARANCE:

Copper tones with pumpkin highlights.

NOSE:

Blackberry, dried apricot and Concord grape lead off. Followed by notes of blonde tobacco, birch oil, and dandelion root. Rye lends its familiar bouquet garni, lemon verbena, and peppermint aromatics. Lingering aromatics of cashew, tahini, and nocino.

PALATE:

Mirroring the nose, grape soda is joined by a dark amber maple syrup. Burnt marshmallow leads into rich espresso and black licorice. There's a deep umami presence of leather, black olive, and grilled onion. The oak here is strong and extractive yielding clove, coconut oil, and pine needle.

FINISH:

A burst of rustic and floral flavors make way for the piquant heat of mole poblano and black pepper on the tongue. The lingering impression is of juniper, thyme, and wormwood.

WITH A SPLASH OF SPRING WATER:

The nose is completely transformed into something bright and fresh, featuring brioche, ricotta, and lychee. Its sweeter side has the nostalgic reverie of vanilla salt-water taffy and mint chocolate chip ice cream. By contrast, the palate's notes of pumpnickel and Dijon mustard maintain its focus on the savory. The finish is resinous, developing mastic, rosemary, and lavender.
