COPPER FOX[®]

RYE WHISKY

TASTING NOTES

"Copper color, vibrant aromas of clay, butter roasted chestnuts, pickling spices, and rye grain sacks with a silky, dry-yet-fruity, medium-to-full body and a honeyed rye toast, peppery spice, cola, fig, and mineral laden finish. A spot-on, wonderfully balanced rye whisky for all applications and occasions."

A PROCESS LIKE NO OTHER

Our rye is unlike any spirit you've ever tasted. We start with thoroughbred grains from the Northern Neck of Virginia and floor malt the barley in a traditional fashion. We then flavor the malt using the smoke of selected, smoldering apple and cherrywood. We age with toasted cuts of fruitwood, and bottle by hand.

A TRULY UNIQUE RYE

At Copper Fox Distillery, we believe in tasting original. Our rye is made of 2/3 Virginia rye, and 1/3 of our thoroughbred Virginia barley, hand-malted and kiln-dried with applewood and cherrywood smoke. It is then double pot-stilled to between 150 and 160 proof, and aged for 14 months with a progressive series of hand-cut apple and oak chips inside used bourbon barrels. Our innovative aging process results in a truly unique rye whisky that is savory and complex with the characteristic Wasmund's finish.
