Old Ballantruan 'Peated' Speyside-Glenlivet Single Malt

Old Ballantruan is distilled in the traditional manner in the prestigious Speyside Glenlivet region, and unusually for this district, it is made with heavily peated malted barley to impart a distinctive and unique flavour.

Old Ballantruan owes its name to an exceptional source of the purest of waters, the Ballantruan Spring, nestling in the Cromdale Hills close to Tomintoul, the highest village in the Scottish Highlands.

After “sleeping” for many years in hand-picked oak casks, this whisky has been bottled at 50% volume and without any chill-filtration in order to retain its layered and integrated peaty flavours.

Presentation

Case of 6 x 750ML tall round antique green glass bottles at 50%vol with cork closure and individual canister.

Tasting Notes

Colour: Warm gold.

Nose: Heathery smoke balanced with subtle floral notes.

Palate: Gentle "peat-reek" flavours with hints of citrus tones and malty nuttiness

Finish: Lingering smoke and peat with a touch of malted barley sweetness.
